2.2. Policy Principles

The Policy and Procedure have been developed in accordance with requirements outlined in the minimum accountabilities for the management of gifts, benefits and hospitality issued by the Victorian Public Sector Commission (see Schedule A).

Development Victoria is committed to, and will uphold the following principles in applying the Policy and Procedure:

- (a) Public Interest – Board members and employees have a duty to place the public interest above their private interests when carrying out their official functions. Individuals will not accept gifts, benefits or hospitality that could raise a reasonable perception of, or actual, bias or preferential treatment. Individuals will not accept offers from those with whom they are likely to make business decisions.
- (b) Transparency and Accountability – processes are in place to ensure that Board members and employees are aware of the requirements of the Policy and Procedure and how to comply with it in practice. Board members and employees are accountable for:
  - (i) declaring all non-token offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality;
  - (ii) declining non-token offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality, or where an exception applies under the Policy or Procedure, seeking approval to accept the offer; and
  - (iii) the responsible provision of gifts, benefits and hospitality.

Individuals with direct reports are accountable for overseeing management of their direct reports' acceptance or refusal of non-token gifts, benefits and hospitality, modelling good practice and promoting awareness of gifts, benefits and hospitality policies and processes.

- (c) Culture of Integrity – Board members and employees strive to earn and sustain public trust through providing or responding to offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality in a manner that is consistent with community expectations. Individuals will refuse any offer that may lead to an actual, perceived or potential conflict of interest.
- (d) Risk-based approach – Development Victoria, through its policies, processes and the Audit and Risk Committee, will ensure the risks associated with gifts, benefits and hospitality are appropriately assessed and managed. Individuals with direct reports will ensure they are aware of the risks inherent in their team's work and functions and monitor the risks to which their direct reports are exposed.

2.3. Minimum Accountability

Under the Instructions supporting the Standing Directions of the Minister for Finance 2018, the Victorian Public Sector Commission has set binding minimum accountabilities for the appropriate management of Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality.

The minimum accountabilities can be found at Schedule A.

3. Management of Offers of Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

This section sets out the process for accepting, declining and recording offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality. Any exceptions to this process must have the prior written approval of:

- (a) the CEO in the case of offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality to employees; and
- (b) the Chairperson in the case of offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality to Board members or the CEO.

All approved exceptions will be reported to the Audit and Risk Committee.

3.1. Conflict of Interest and Reputational Risk

When deciding whether to accept an offer, Board members and employees should first consider if the offer could be perceived as influencing them in performing their duties or lead to reputational damage. The more valuable the offer, the more likely that a conflict of interest or reputational risk exists.

3.2. When a Gift or Offer Must be Refused

Board members and employees should consider the GIFT test at Figure 1 and the requirements below to help decide whether to refuse an offer. Offers must be refused where:

- (a) the offer is likely to influence the individual, or be perceived to influence them, in the course of their duties;
- (b) the offer gives rise to an actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest;
- (c) there is no legitimate business benefit;
- (d) the offer could adversely affect the individual's standing as a public official or could bring Development Victoria or the public sector into disrepute;
- (e) the offer is made by a person or organisation about which they will likely make or influence a decision;
- (f) the offer is:
  - (i) made by a current or prospective supplier; or
  - (ii) made during an actual or likely procurement or tender process by a person or organisation involved in the process;
- (g) the offer is likely to be a bribe or inducement to make a decision or act in a particular way;
- (h) the offer extends to the individual's relatives or friends;
- (i) the offer is money, or used in a similar way to money (such as a gift certificate), or something easily converted to money (such as shares);
- (j) in relation to hospitality and events, Development Victoria will already be sufficiently represented to meet its business needs;
- (k) acceptance could be perceived as endorsement of a product or service, or acceptance would unfairly advantage the sponsor in future procurement decisions;
- (l) the offer is made by a person or organisation with a primary purpose to lobby or influence Development Victoria;
- (m) the offer is made in secret; or
- (n) the offer could otherwise reasonably be perceived as undermining the integrity and impartiality of the individual or Development Victoria.

G	Giver	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Who is providing the gift, benefit or hospitality and what is their relationship to me?</li> <li>2. Does my role require me to select suppliers, award grants, regulate industries or determine government policies?</li> <li>3. Could the person or organisation benefit from a decision I make?</li> </ol>
I	Influence	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>4. Are they seeking to gain an advantage or influence my decisions or actions?</li> <li>5. Has the gift, benefit or hospitality been offered to me publicly or privately?</li> <li>6. Is it a courtesy or a token of appreciation or a valuable non-token offer?</li> <li>7. Does its timing coincide with a decision I am about to make?</li> </ol>
F	Favour	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>8. Are they seeking a favour in return for the gift, benefit or hospitality?</li> <li>9. Has the gift, benefit or hospitality been offered honestly?</li> <li>10. Has the person or organisation made several offers over the last 12 months?</li> <li>11. Would accepting it create an obligation to return a favour?</li> </ol>
T	Trust	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>12. Would accepting the gift, benefit or hospitality diminish public trust?</li> <li>13. How would the public view acceptance of this gift, benefit or hospitality?</li> <li>14. What would my colleagues, family, friends or associates think?</li> </ol>

3.3. Token Offers

A token offer is an offer of a gift, benefit or hospitality that is of inconsequential or trivial value to both the person making the offer and the individual. It may include promotional items such as pens and note pads, and modest hospitality that would be considered a basic courtesy, such as light refreshments offered during a meeting.

A token offer is not worth more than $50.

Token offers can be accepted by a Board member or employee provided their acceptance does not create a conflict of interest or lead to reputational damage. Individuals may accept token offers without approval or declaring the offer on the Gifts Register.

3.4. Non-Token Offers (reportable gift offers)

A non-token offer is an offer of a gift, benefit or hospitality that is not a token offer (i.e. is worth more than $50) and is an offer that is, or may be perceived to be by the recipient, the person making the offer or by the wider community, of more than inconsequential value.

Non-token offers must be reported in accordance with the process described below.

A Board member or employee can only accept non-token offers if:

- (a) acceptance of the offer is not precluded under section 3.2 above (when a gift offer must be refused); and
- (b) the Responsible Person approves the acceptance of the offer in writing by signing the Declaration Form.

Due consideration should be given to the GIFT test in Figure 1 above.

A Board member or employee may be offered a gift or hospitality where there is no opportunity to seek written approval from the Responsible Person prior to accepting. For example, they may be offered a wrapped gift that they later identify as being a non-token gift. In these cases, the individual must seek approval from the Responsible Person within 5 business days of receipt of the non-token offer.

Where the gift would likely bring the individual or Development Victoria into disrepute, the organisation should return the gift. If it represents a conflict of interest for the individual, the organisation should either return the gift or transfer ownership to the organisation to mitigate this risk.

3.5. Requirement to Record all Non-Token Offers (both accepted and declined)

Other than non-reportable training offers, all non-token offers, whether accepted or declined, must be reported. All Board members and employees who are offered a gift, benefit or hospitality with a value of more than $50 must complete the Declaration Form and deliver it to DV Legal.

If the Board member or employee intends to accept the offer, the Responsible Person must approve the acceptance by signing the relevant section of the Declaration Form.

The legitimate business reason for accepting the non-token offer must also be recorded on the Declaration Form and contain sufficient detail to link the acceptance to the individual’s work functions and legitimate business benefit to Development Victoria.

Board member and employees should consider the following examples of acceptable and unacceptable levels of detail to be included the Gifts Register when recording the business reason:

Recording your legitimate business benefit on the Declaration Form
Acceptable level of detail	“Individual is responsible for evaluating and reporting on the outcomes of Development Victoria’s sponsorship of Event A. Individual attended Event A in an official capacity and reported back to Development Victoria on the event.”
Acceptable level of detail	“Individual presented to a visiting international delegation. The delegation presented the individual with a cultural item worth an estimated $200. Declining the gift would have caused offence. The gift was accepted by the individual on behalf of Development Victoria, with written approval subsequently obtained.”
Insufficient level of detail	“Networking” OR “Maintaining stakeholder relationships” You will need to add further details on how the event has a business benefit to your official duties

Networking and stakeholder relationship management that support Development Victoria’s strategy are valuable ways to make relevant business connections and maintain business relationships. However simple descriptions recorded on the Declaration Form such as ‘networking’ or ‘maintaining stakeholder relationships’ are not sufficient. Individuals must explain how the event has a legitimate business benefit to the individual’s official duties or responsibilities and/or furthers the conduct of official business or other legitimate goals of Development Victoria, the public sector or the State.

Legal maintains the Gifts Register and enters the relevant details from the Declaration Form onto the Gifts Register. The Public Register will contain a subset of the information detailed in the internal Gifts Register. The Public Register is in the form that aligns with the Victorian Public Sector Commission’s model public gifts register, which includes de-identification of personal information.

3.6. Ownership of Gifts Offered to Individuals

A Board member or employee who accepts a non-token gift is doing so on behalf of Development Victoria. Ownership of the gift remains with Development Victoria until the Responsible Person approves the retention of the gift.

A Board member or employee must transfer to Development Victoria official gifts or any gift of cultural significance or significant value.

If a gift is of cultural, historic or other significance it will be offered to an appropriate public institution, such as the Melbourne Museum or the National Gallery of Victoria. Consideration will be given to donating other reportable gifts, or the proceeds from their sale, to a non-profit organisation.

3.7. Repeat Offers

Receiving multiple offers (token or non-token) from the same person or organisation can generate a stronger perception that the person or organisation could influence you. Board members and employees should refuse repeat offers from the same source if they create a conflict of interest or may lead to reputational damage.

3.8. Ceremonial Gifts

Ceremonial gifts are official gifts provided as part of the culture and practices of communities and government, within Australia or internationally. Ceremonial gifts are the property of the organisation, irrespective of value, and should be accepted by individuals on behalf of Development Victoria. The receipt of ceremonial gifts should be recorded on the Gifts Register but does not need to be published on the Public Register.

3.9. Hospitality Provided by Victorian Public Sector Organisations

Victorian public sector organisations may provide hospitality to stakeholders, as part of their functions. When hospitality is offered to a Board member or employee by another Victorian public sector organisation, the individual should consider the requirements of the minimum accountabilities.

Accepted hospitality offered by a Victorian public sector organisation as part of official business does not need to be declared or reported on the Gifts Register, where the reason for the individual's attendance is consistent with Development Victoria's functions and objectives and with the individual's role.

3.10. Reporting attempts to Bribe

A Board member or employee who is offered a gift that he/she believes is, or may be, an attempted bribe or inducement will:

- (a) refuse the offer;
- (b) report the offer immediately to the CEO or General Counsel; and
- (c) complete a Declaration Form so that the refusal can be recorded in the Gifts Register.

The CEO or person offered the bribe will report any criminal or corrupt conduct to the Victorian Police and/or the Independent Broad-based Anti-Corruption Commission.

4. Management of the Provision of Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

This section sets out the requirements for providing gifts, benefits and hospitality.

4.1. Requirements of Providing Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

Gifts, benefits and hospitality may be provided when welcoming guests, to facilitate the development of business relationships, further public-sector business outcomes and to celebrate achievements.

When deciding whether to provide gifts, benefits or hospitality or the type of gift, benefit or hospitality to provide, Board members and employees must ensure:

Development Victoria Policy and Procedure – Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality A10

- (a) any gift, benefit or hospitality is provided for a business reason that furthers the conduct of official business or other legitimate organisational goals, or promotes and supports government policy objectives and priorities;
- (b) that any costs are proportionate to the benefits obtained for Development Victoria and would be considered reasonable in terms of community expectations (the HOST test at Figure 2 is a good reminder of what to think about in making this assessment); and
- (c) it does not raise an actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest.

H	Hospitality	1. To whom is the gift or hospitality being provided? 2. Will recipients be external business associates, or individuals of the host organisation?
O	Objectives	3. For what purpose will hospitality be provided? 4. Is the hospitality being provided to further the conduct of official business? 5. Will it promote and support government policy objectives and priorities? 6. Will it contribute to staff wellbeing and workplace satisfaction?
S	Spend	7. Will public funds be spent? 8. What type of hospitality will be provided? 9. Will it be modest or expensive, and will alcohol be provided as a courtesy or an indulgence? 10. Will the costs incurred be proportionate to the benefits obtained?
T	Trust	11. Will public trust be enhanced or diminished? 12. Could you publicly explain the rationale for providing the gift or hospitality? 13. Will the event be conducted in a manner which upholds the reputation of the public sector? 14. Have records in relation to the gift or hospitality been kept in accordance with reporting and recording procedures?

4.2. Containing Costs

Board members and employees should contain costs involved with providing gifts, benefits and hospitality wherever possible. The following questions may be useful to assist individuals to decide on the type of gift, benefit or hospitality to provide:

- (a) Will the cost of providing the gift, benefit or hospitality be proportionate to the potential benefits?
- (b) Is an external venue necessary or does Development Victoria have facilities to host the event?
- (c) Is the proposed catering or hospitality proportionate to the number of attendees?
- (d) Does the size of the event and number of attendees align with intended outcomes?
- (e) Is the gift symbolic, rather than financial, in value?
- (f) Will providing the gift, benefit or hospitality be viewed by the public as excessive?

Development Victoria

Policy and Procedure – Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality A10

Gifts to Board members or employees (e.g. to recognise significant work achievements or service milestones) will be token. Personal celebrations or condolences (e.g. birthdays, marriages, birth of a child, bereavement cards or flowers) will not be funded using public monies.

Alcohol must not be provided at an event unless this has been approved by the CEO.

5. Breaches

Disciplinary action consistent with the relevant industrial instrument and legislation, including dismissal, may be taken where an individual fails to adhere to the Policy and Procedure. This includes where an individual fails to avoid wherever possible, or identify, declare and manage a conflict of interest related to gifts, benefits and hospitality in accordance with Development Victoria's Conflicts of Interest Policy and Procedure.

Actions inconsistent with this Policy and Procedure may constitute misconduct under the Public Administration Act 2004, which includes:

- (a) breaches of the binding Code of Conduct for Victorian Public Sector Employees such as sections of the Code covering conflict of interest, public trust and gifts and benefits; and
- (b) individuals making improper use of their position.

For further information on managing breaches of the Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality Policy and Procedure, please contact the General Counsel.

Development Victoria will communicate its policy on the offering and provision of gifts, benefits and hospitality to contractors, consultants and other business associates. Those identified as acting inconsistently with the Policy and Procedure may be subject to contract re-negotiation, including termination.

5.1. Speak Up

Individuals who consider that gifts, benefits and hospitality or conflict of interest within Development Victoria may not have been declared or is not being appropriately managed should speak up and notify their manager or the General Counsel.

Development Victoria will take decisive action, including possible disciplinary action, against individuals who discriminate against or victimise those who speak up in good faith.

5.2. Contacts for Further Information

A conflict of interest resulting from the acceptance of a gift, benefit or hospitality is not always clear to those who have them. Individuals who are unsure about accepting a gift, benefit or hospitality, or the application of the Policy and Procedure, should ask their manager or the General Counsel for advice.

5.3. Governance and Review

The Gifts Register is reviewed quarterly by the Audit and Risk Committee and is regularly audited.

The Financial Controller will report quarterly to the Audit and Risk Committee on the administration and quality control of the Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality Policy and Procedure and Gifts Register. The report will include analysis of Development Victoria's gifts, benefits and hospitality risks (including multiple offers from the same source and offers from business associates), risk mitigation measures and any proposed improvements.

The Audit and Risk Committee will review and approve the Policy and this Procedure on an annual basis or more frequently if required.
