

Melbourne Arts Precinct Transformation

Construction update September 2023

Sturt Street intersection changes

Pedestrians are encouraged to use the pedestrian bridge between Arts Centre Melbourne Forecourt and the Primrose Potter Australian Ballet Centre (PPABC). The pedestrian bridge is accessible between 6am and 1am Monday to Saturday, and 9am to 11pm on Sunday. To access this bridge from Kavanagh Street, you can enter the PPABC building, take the lift to the fourth floor and cross the bridge to Arts Centre Melbourne and NGV.

Above: the pedestrian bridge between Arts Centre Melbourne Forecourt and the Primrose Potter Australian Ballet Centre

Look below for the map showing the safest pedestrian routes.

There will be major changes to pedestrian access in coming months due to increased construction works in the precinct. Keep an eye out for more information.

Piling works

As part of the works at Arts Centre Melbourne, you can expect to see some piling rigs being delivered onsite in the coming weeks, in time for the commencement of piling.

The piling rigs are part of the next stage of works, establishing the foundation for the new Arts Centre Melbourne loading dock.

Each piling rig will be delivered overnight onto site and will be built over three to four days. Once completed, they will stand at approximately 40 metres high. That's 15 metres taller than the Primrose Potter Australian Ballet Centre!

Above: one of the piling rigs that will be arriving on site

77 Southbank Boulevard deconstruction

As part of preparations for the upcoming deconstruction of 77 Southbank Boulevard, Delta Group will be continuing to remove furniture from the building over the next month.

There will be removalists accessing the site via the loading dock on Kavanagh Street.

For more information

You can find out more about the project online at artsprecinct.melbourne.

If you have any questions about the project, please email mapt@development.vic.gov.au.

DELIVERED BY

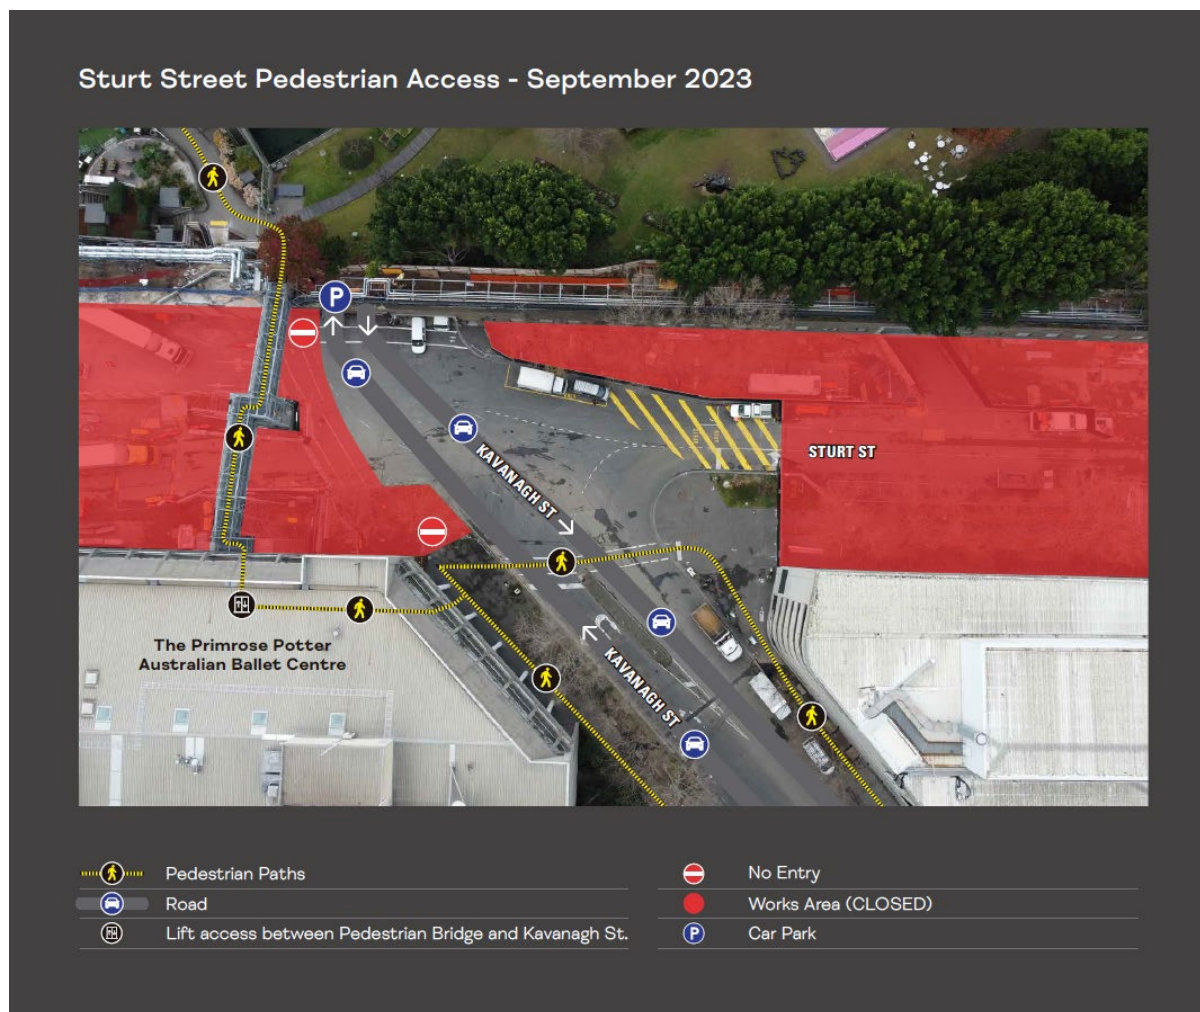

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH

Melbourne Arts Precinct Transformation

Safest pedestrian access for Sturt Street intersection

The map below is the recommended safest route for pedestrians and vehicles through the Sturt Street/Kavanagh Street intersection.

DELIVERED BY

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH

