Junction Place Deed of Settlement

Development Victoria and private developer Central Place Developments have reached a settlement on the termination of the Junction Place, Development Agreement in February 2022.

The terms of the agreement are commercial-in-confidence.

Central Place Developments will continue developing the 72-lot townhouse project at Aurora Way.

Development Victoria is committed to working with developers, Wodonga Council and the community to plan and deliver the best outcomes for Junction Place.

As part of the Junction Place precinct redevelopment, Central Place Developments, in partnership with Development Victoria, completed the development of Sidings Park in 2019 and Richardson Park in 2018.
